

Fami,

I wish I were with you right now. That's the way I feel all the time and no matter when you read this, that's the way I feel right now. These past 7 months, well words can't describe them. It's been beautiful. I grow more closer to Christ since I've known you, I've had fun, there has been laughing, crying, hugging + kissing, riding (oops), and lots of praying. I wish I could be with you all of the time, literally, all of the time. I know these times can never be forgotten by me. Whether we spend our lives together is up to our Father in Heaven. All I can do is pray, and I do every day. I really love you and I want everyone to know. I could care less about what anyone thinks. All I want to do is live my life here on Earth with you in Christ. That is my main goal in life now. I just know that we're going to make it. There will be times when we are not together but I'd wait forever for you. There is no other person like you to me. I feel like you are part of me. Even when we aren't together, my thoughts are always about you. It's such a wonderful feeling.

I can hardly wait till I see you again.

I wish there was some way I could tell you or show you how much I love you. I've told you a thousand times and I want to tell you again and again. But the words in their flashy order does not matter. What matters is what's in the heart. All my love,
